SalesLogistix Has Deployed 100th Salesforce.com System

Consulting Firm Has Worked on 100 SFDC Instances plus Dozens of other Cloud-Based Applications.

Palo Alto, CA, November 07, 2011 --(PR.com)-- SalesLogistix Corporation, the CRM Management Consultancy and certified Salesforce.com integrator, today announced that the company has put into production or modified more than 100 client instances of Salesforce.com's Sales Cloud, Service Cloud, or Force.com platform features. As can be seen in this list (<http://www.saleslogistix.com/customers/>), SalesLogistix has over 70 clients in 6 countries, several with more than one instance of Salesforce.com. In addition, the firm has worked on other leading cloud-based systems such as NetSuite, Marketo, Hubspot, Vertical Response, Pervasive, Boomi, and others.

"We are proud to have reached this system deployment milestone, particularly since our projects are typically system extensions, integrations, or re-implementations that don't lend themselves to fast 'cookie cutter' solutions," said David Taber, CEO of SalesLogistix. "We've been dedicated to SFDC since 2005, and this focus has paid off in our clients' success over the years."

SalesLogistix projects typically involve integration and functional extension work in applications that touch Salesforce.com, such as marketing automation, ecommerce, content management, and accounting. Thanks to cloud development, web services, and modern integration servers, developing and integrating these applications goes much faster than with traditional "on premises" applications. But cloud projects still require deep work in data modelling, business process analysis, and data migration. All too often, cloud integrators don't go deep enough in these areas on the initial system implementation. A year after the initial system "go live," clients call on SalesLogistix to troubleshoot and repair systems that were set up with "quick start" consulting projects from other integrators.
